Prologue

Many things go into the making of a yearbook--things like rubber cement and typewritten copy and lead pencils, and things like worry, thought and time and energy. But the most important thing is inspiration. The 1953 "Milestone" has had as its inspiration the student body of Gleason High School. We have attempted to answer their demands in this book.

To portray student life with the highest regard for reality--to emphasize our love and pride for the school we have attended--have been the desires of the staff which led to the creation of your 1953 "Milestone".

Your cherishing of this book is ample reward.

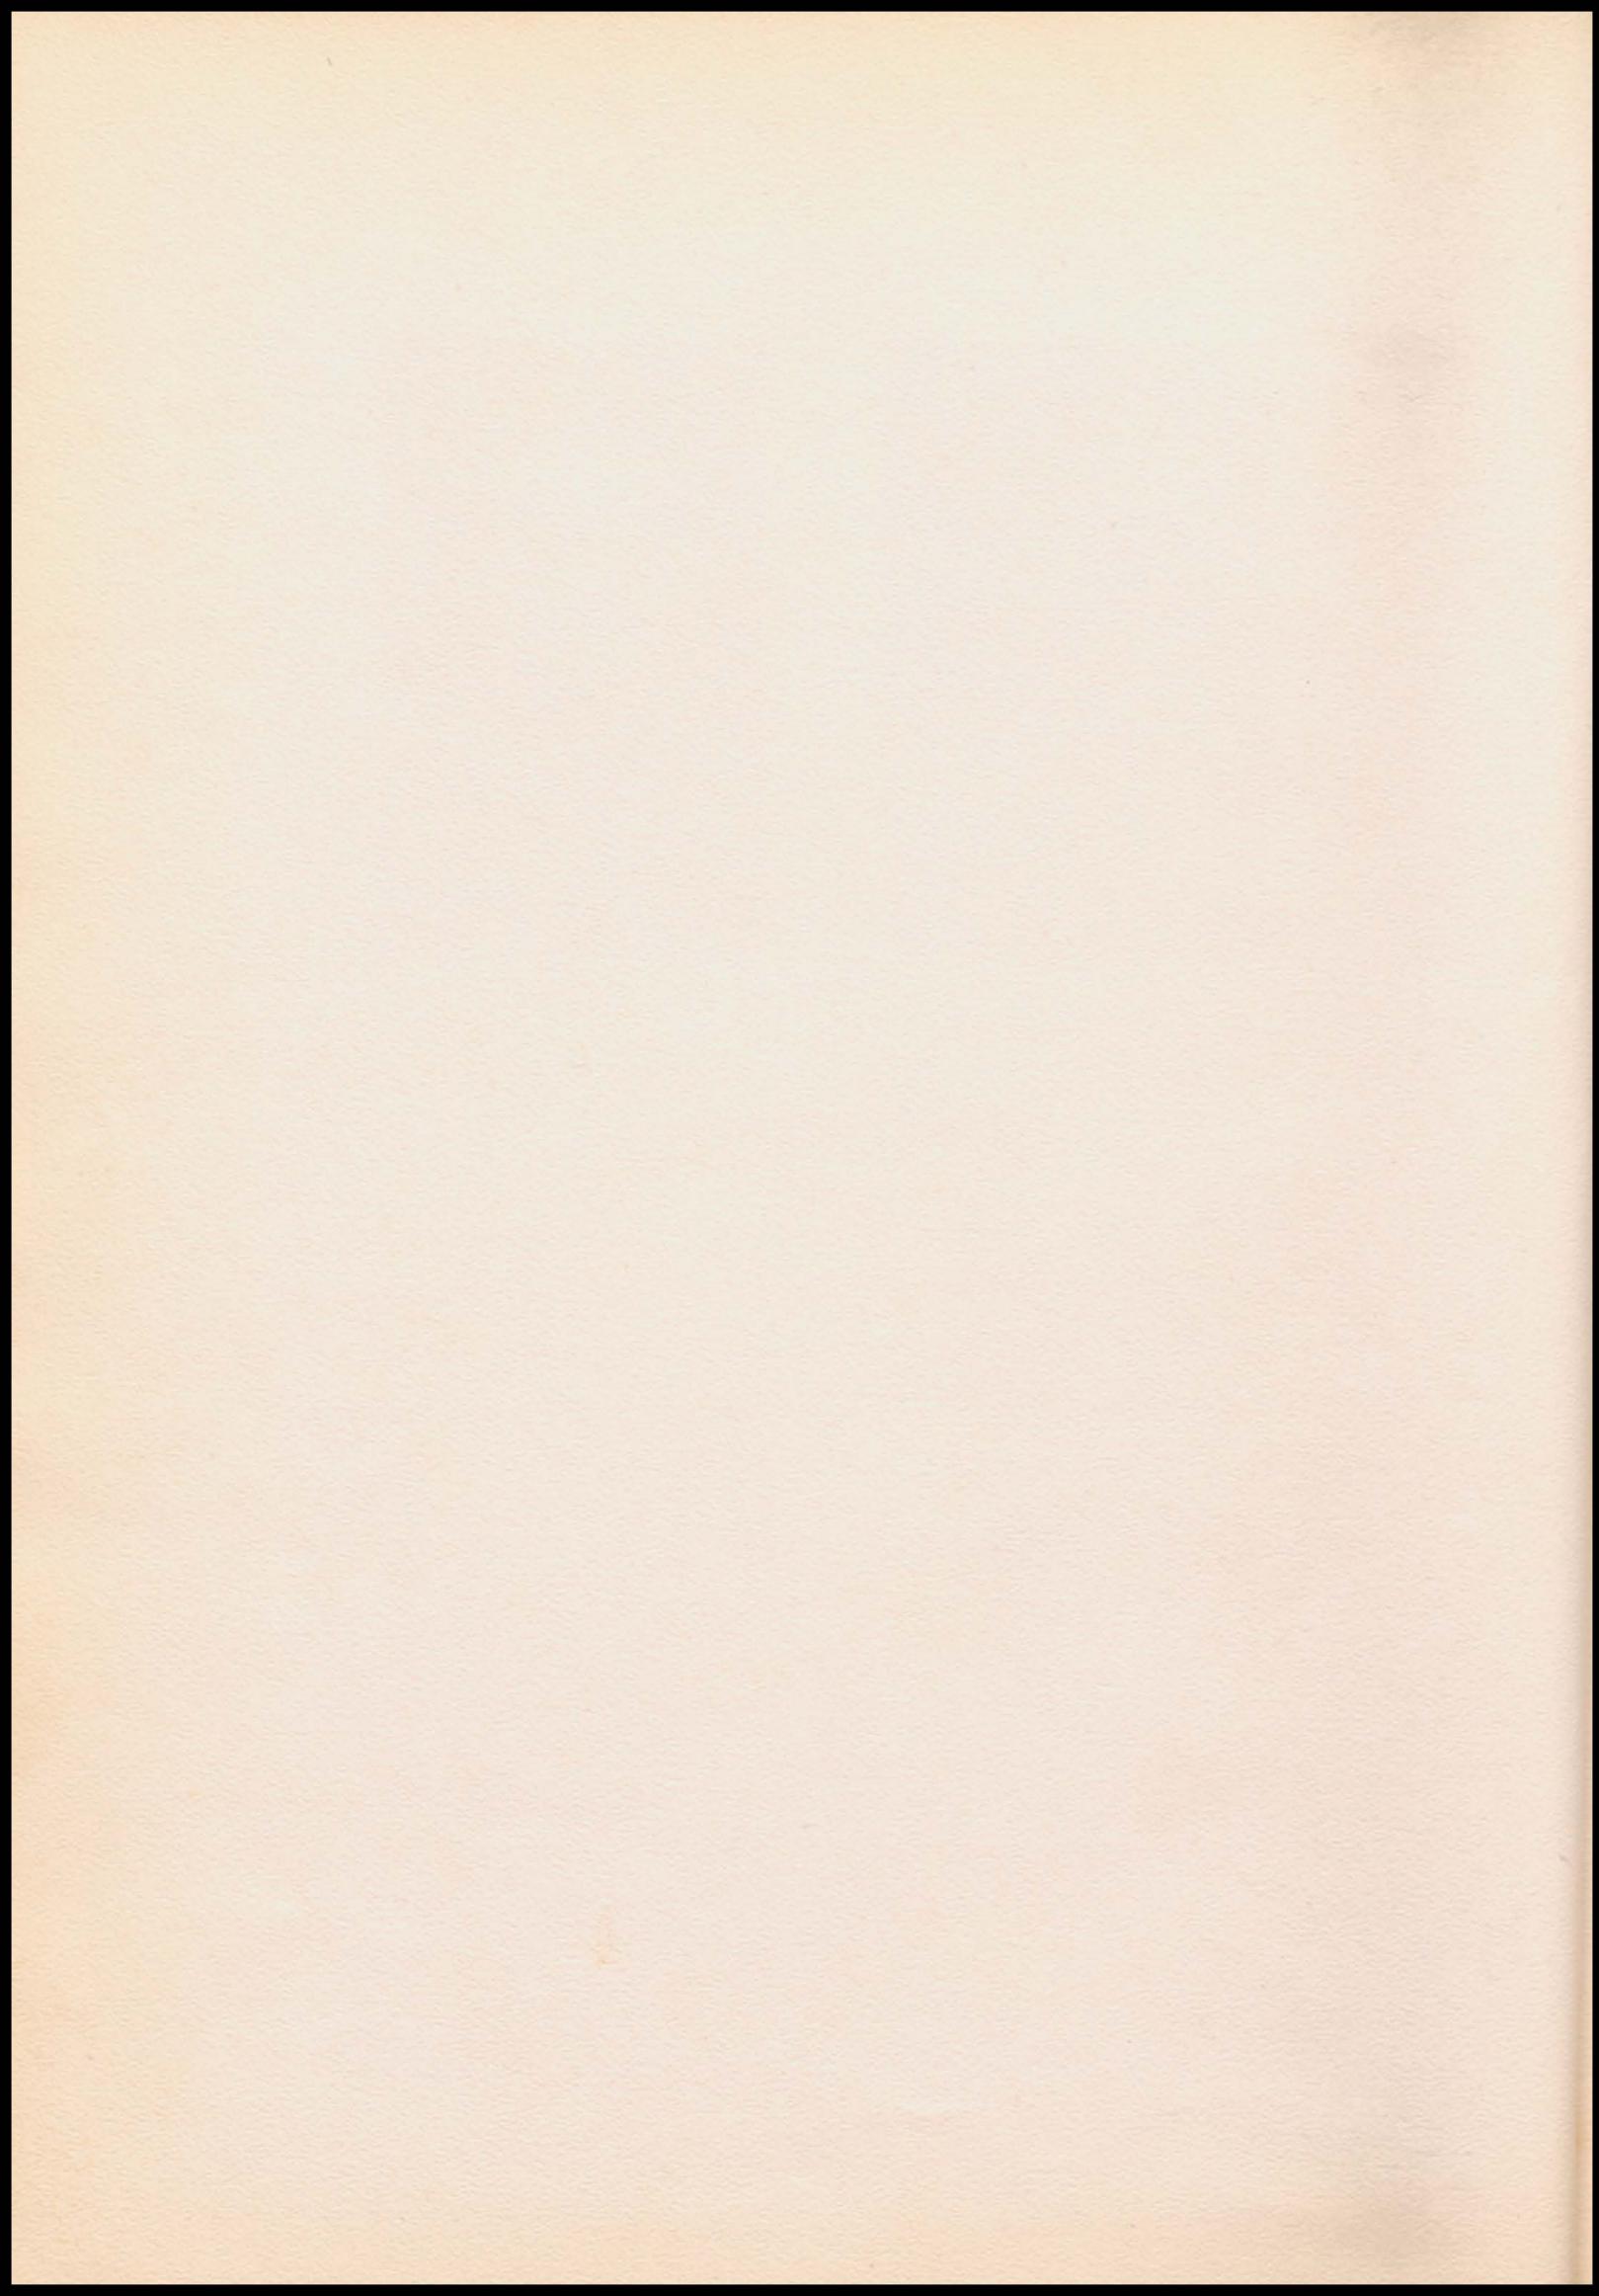

The Annual Staff

Dedication

We, the Senior Class of 1953, dedicate this edition of the "Milestone" to our sponsors, Miss Maddox and Mr. Flanagan, who have been interested in our progress and devoted to us amid our trials and triumphs. Because of such friendship, loyalty, and service, they will forever remain dear to our hearts.

In Memoriam

Virgil Dellinger, the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Dellinger, was fatally injured in an accident at Gleason, Tennessee, May 10, 1947.

Comrade of our childhood,
Member of our class,
Tho we face the world without you,
None can take your place.

Class Prophecy

1. Codie Adams was the most popular boy in school, and now he's married to Bobby Lou. They have four or five you know who, Little Codies and Bobby Lous.
2. Lyndell Adams is now working in Kalamazoo, is married to the sweetest girl you ever knew. You couldn't guess, but I know who, She is none other than Jo Lou.
3. You never can tell; you never do know. Jennie Frances and Billy Hall are making the dough. Jennie quotes poetry; while Billy puts on a musical show.
4. At the beauty shop fixing curls was Peggy Sue and her little girls, while in the front, her friend Jack Dunning was shaving close the moustache of her honey.
5. There was Grady and Betty Hines; and in all the courting, Nanette was left behind. Still, she was looking around, driving her Crosley all over town.
6. Junior and Robert sit around and pout, because Martha Taylor is getting married when school is out. They twisted and turned, until they had learned, what it was all about.
7. We went to a basketball game and who did we find? Norma Jean and Betty playing so fine, just like they did in the olden days. While James Thomas sat watching Betty in a haze.
8. While Dodie is as intelligent as ever, although Roberta never thought he was very clever.
9. Jerry Hearn was a bashful boy, and Elmo was too; but look at them now. They're both teaching school, and how.
10. Artist Helen Boothe paints strange pictures, masterpieces by the score; while her friend Raymond waits outside the door.
11. And out the next day to a baseball game we found Joe Denning pitching with eagerness and grace, while Bobby Vandiver was stealing third base.
12. Hearing of the Opera, we decided to go. Rushlene, an usher of such a great show. At the opera, who should appear but Ruth Babb, oh, what a dear!
13. Bless my soul. There's Ruby Frances cutting capers on Broadway signing contracts by the dozen. She's a star that's come to stay.
14. Before dense cheering crowds, Robbie Crutchfield makes her stand, while her husband, Leon Dunning, serves as leader of the band.
15. Twenty miles from the nearest Pool Hall, Dickie and Bobby loll, thinking of another caper to pull on their nearest neighbor.
16. Joe Green kisses all the girls, from one to twenty-two. Now he's Mayor of the city, oh brother, what'll Joan do?
17. In the Little Red School House on our way, we found Martha Jean and husband Ray teaching kids, six of their own, and the janitor there in Patton's place, was a larger man with a friendly face, why, Paul Joe, how you have grown!
18. For Hudonal and Barbara wedding bells did ring, but they didn't want people to know of the thing. One day the word got around soon it had spread all over town.
